Christian Principles for Palliative Care written by: Philip Ney
Description: The twelve principles outlined are not sugar coated. They are serious, no nonsense, innovational principles, that challenge us to re-evaluate our motives, convictions, and how we conduct our lives. Whether the reader is a physician or a patient, we are given substantial reasons why we need to examine how we live and how we contemplate dying and death. To live by these well-defined principles can surely lead to a restored reverence and appreciation of human life. Buy Hardcopy or PDF Version

Deeply Damaged written by: Philip Ney (translated into French)
Deeply Damaged written by: Philip Ney (translated into Russian)

Description:

There is nothing in all human experience that so deeply damages the body, mind and spirit as abortion. Killing a helpless, innocent child nestled securely in her mother's womb is so contrary to God's purpose for humans, it robs them of much if not most of their humanity. Growing mounds of research shows that abortion is not therapeutic. It is only damaging. Our research shows that those who have an abortion are statistically more likely to abuse and neglect their children. People who have been mistreated as children are more likely to choose an abortion. The combination of abuse and neglect is so damaging that no spiritual band-aid, no superficial counseling, no amount of reassurance or time will make significant improvement. Deeply Damaged describes why and how abortion combined with child mistreatment is so injurious. It starts with the psychology of created humanity, describes the extent of damage and introduces the method of treatment in Hope Alive group therapy.
